COTTON IS KING ON BOARD BIG PACIFIC MAIL MONGOLIA

Julu enroute to the land of the 'sun-

The Pacific steamed to a beith at Alakea what! this morning, setting very low in the water, approximately ten thousand tons of the through freight being baled cotton, for discharge at the several Japanese ports of call,

Car loads of this product were left behind with the departure of the Moagolia from San Francisco. The exportation of cotton to the Far East this season is declared as much larger than any previous year. The spinning mills at Tokyo and Osaka are said to be large consumers of the product from the southern states.

There was not an inch of available passenger accommodation in the Mongolia after the one hundred and twenty-four first, 29 second class and steerage passengers for Honoluiu had been provided with quarters.

in his devotion to duty. M. H. Hunt (Lil Mose) as he is known around the circle formed by the Pacific, is now presiding over the purser's office in the biggest liner in the fleet. Hunt will be remembered as having figured in shipwreck at the time the Asia went to her doom on Finger Rocks off the coast of China. Hunt was finally induced to make his escape from a rapidly crumbling ship with little else than a pair of highly prized pink pajamas and his pleasing personality. Many are the deeds of daring rescue credited to the tall, handsome officer, who for years has been a prominent and commanding figure in the ranks of Pacific Maildom.

At Victoria, British Columbia, the decision of Judge McInnes that a steamship company is entitled to ask its employes to work at discharging cargo on Sunday has been upheld by the Court of Appeal. The case at issue was in the nature of a test action, was that brought by Duncan Murray against the Coast Steamship Company. The plaintiff was suing for a balance of wages which he claimed had been deducated from his wages because, on account of his refusal to work on Sundays, longshoremen had had to be employed.
